ARIZONA LUMBER GOES TO BOSTON

"Any criticism that the United States forest service is not selling all the timber that can be cut, to advantage on the reserve, is without foundation, so far as Northern Arizona is concerned.

This statement was made a few days ago by E. T. McGonigle, president of the Flagstaff Lumber Mfg. company. He is here for a few days rest.

"As much timber is being cut on the national forest of the northern part of the state as is consistent with good administrative methods."

Mr. McGonigle said: "Some of the mature timber, of course, cannot be reached. Were adequate transportation facilities provided it could also be sold. But as much as can be reached conveniently has been sold off."

SOUTH OF HOLBROOK

"South of Holbrook there are vast areas of merchantable timber. Several years ago W. H. Clark incorporated a company to build a 75 mile railroad from Holbrook to tap that rich timber belt. A deal was closed with the government for a great amount of standing timber. The time to begin cutting that timber expired in December, but I understand that it has been extended. I also hear that the company has secured ample financial backing, and that the work of

BUILDING THE ROAD

Will begin before long. An investment of about $3,000,000 is contemplated.

"The market for Arizona lumber is growing. A little less than a year ago we shipped several carloads of our best lumber to Boston. We could sell more back east but as the dealers there demand the best that we can produce, in carload lots, we do not like to fill their orders. We reserve it for our Arizona customers and ship it to them in mixed carloads.

"During the year the prices of lumber have advanced noticeably in the east. In Arizona the advances haven't been great. —Arizona Gazette.

Lights—More Lights

Had Holbrook a few more lights the same as the Holbrook Drug Co. have and also Lee Newman's in front of his hotel, at nights, when strangers are in Holbrook, or when trains are passing thru, the effect would be to cause the stranger tarrying with us for one or more days, to, when in other parts speaks out for Holbrook and passengers on the train "sit up and look" and comment on our progressiveness. Had we three more lights, one at the depot, one somewhere along between the depot and Jud Lathrop's, then another just about Wetzler's hall or near the post-office it would help wonderfully. The light question at night is worth a thought and action.

Trouble at Holbrook

(Dr. Wilkes, while at St. Johns and Springerville, having nothing to do—but, gets off the following:)

Mr. Jim Johnson, keeper of the White Hope restaurant, Holbrook, is busy these days nursing two suckling hogs. After Frank Adlead, the butcher, touched the vital spot of that world renowned Berkshire, Mr. Johnson had to foster those motherless twins. Mrs. Johnson says she is going to sue for divorce, if Jim doesn't do away with those motherless twins, as he has to get up three times a night, and each time disturbs the slumbers of Mrs. Johnson, to warm papa Brinkerhoff's Jersey cream for the twins. Better look out Jim; trouble is brewing.—St. Johns Observer.

Caro Kelley, of Los Angeles, a first-class stenographer, has taken the position lately vacated by Wm. Kolhler.

C. H. Brown and Mrs. Brown returned Monday from their trip to California, Indiana and other points, and report having had a most delightful time.

Lee Newman was in Mesa and Phoenix the first four days of the week looking over some business deals there. He returned Wednesday night better pleased than ever with Holbrook.

Miss Bernice Smith and Miss Josephine Ayers, of Flagstaff, students of the normal there, came down by auto a few days ago to visit Mrs. Crouse. Walter McLaws guided the auto around the "bump-e-ty-bumps" on the trip

MORE IMPROVEMENTS

The Navajo-Apache Telephone system have been making repairs to their line in the town of Taylor, consisting of rebutting and straightening their poles on the main line running through Taylor. This company means to keep their lines working so as to maintain constant telephone service to each and every connection in the two counties, every day in the year. This company expects to spend considerable money on extensions and improvements to their system during the spring and summer.

This is a home company and well deserves the support and patronage in their effort to conduct a first-class telephone system in our county.

Ezra Hatch, county supervisor came in last Friday on business connected with inspection of the new county bridge just east of town which is now completed, with the exception of building the approaches, which is expected to be finished within a few days when the new bridge will be all ready to be used by the public.

A Jury session of the Superior Court opens next Wednesday.

A Record for Holbrook

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Lopez, last Saturday night at 7:30 a fine boy baby. This makes 13 children in Mr. Lopez's family and had Mr. Stork delayed his visit a few days longer, until yesterday the 13th, it be 13 children, 1913th year and 13th day of the month. Talk about health, prosperity and happiness its just a sure thing that Holbrook heads the list.

Thorwald Larson met with quite a painful accident last Sunday afternoon. In mounting his horse, he, in some manner was thrown to the ground, causing a badly injured knee.

SCHOOL NOTES OF INTEREST

With an average enrollment of 113 and the highest enrollment 117, when the seating capacity of the building is 112, causes considerable thought over what is to be done to house the school children next year. The increase in average attendance over last year is about 25, and if Holbrook continues to grow, the increase will be proportionately larger every year, so it will not be economy to adopt half way plans.

The best educators have decided that there should be not over 35 pupils in one room, unless in a primary room under direction of a teacher and an assistant. The assistant's work is to see that desk work assigned by the teacher is done, and done properly. Primary work requires so much individual direction and help that this method secures larger results for the amount expended than any yet devised.

The lower grades have been busy making valentines and the boxes are to be opened Thursday afternoon.

Friday is a holiday because of the admission of Arizona, February 14th, 1912. The good "Saint Valentine" is not responsible, as some of the little people thought.

Love of the Beautiful

"The best place to inculcate the love of the beautiful is in the school room," said President Elliott of Harvard University. "To the rising generations the most effective lessons can be given, and from the school millions of children will carry the lesson to millions of homes.
